Docket System is Web-based software that tracks productivity across employees, projects, and activities to help companies improve efficiency by tracking and managing deadlines.

The TLI Docket System: Our Value Proposition

Our Docket System helps organizations keep track of employees' productivity in their day to day activities. The admin can create projects and assign users to the projects. Users can login to their accounts and update their progress. If a user fails to make an entry, the automatic mailing facility will prompt managers to track that employee(s). (The admin user can prepare various reports which help in decision making.) A variety of reports are available to the admin to facilitate accurate and timely decision making.

The Docket System provides a detailed productivity report on all projects. It enables daily, weekly and monthly tracking and managing of time spent. It will also improve your bottom line by tracking projects, improving efficiency, managing deadlines, and boosting staff productivity.
